FARMERS TO MEET IN CAMERON THURSDAY

George Banzhaf, speaking before the chamber of commerce Monday night said that contracts had been received and that the county had been thoroughly organized. Meetings are urged simultaneously over the county at 1 p. m. today. The county will be able to lease 61,000 acres, he said. The average yield last year was 146 pounds.

1300 Employes of Prohibition Bureau Will Lose Jobs

Washington — Thirteen hundred employes of the prohibition bureau today were on notice that their services will be dispensed with June 30 in an effort to cut the bureau's expenses $4,000,000 during the next year.

The attorney general said Budget Director Douglas had instructed that $4,000,000 of the $8,300,000 appropriated for the bureau during the next fiscal year be saved. To this fact he attributed the large number of dismissals.

August 1 Last Date To Transfer Pupils

June and July are the months when the transfers of all students from one school district to another should be made, in case the parents do not wish to send their children to the home district.

Transfers cannot be made by the county board and all applications must be in the office of the county superintendent not later than August 1st.

Two Seriously Injured In Car Accident Are In Local Hospital

Mrs. E. M. Belk of Dallas and sister, Mrs. Barron, daughters of the late Terrell Aycock of Cameron, were seriously injured in a car accident near Lott last Frlday. Mrs. Belk was driving when the car swerved from the highway and was overturned four times.

Mrs. Barron was more severely injured and for a time it was feared her wounds might be fatal. Both were brought to Cameron in a Green Brothers ambulance and are now in the Cameron Hospital recovering.

To the Citizenship of Milam County:

This report seemingly smacks of personal allusion, but as it covers a period of sixteen years and deals with the administration of the County's affairs during my service as County Auditor, it would necessarily be based upon my personal experiences as an official during that time.

When I qualified as County Auditor, July 2nd, 1917, the constitutional Road and Bridge Fund was overdrawn and had registered and unpaid warrants totaling approximately Thirty-Six Thousand Dollars. The registered warrants were entirely liquidated and no further warrants have been registered against this fund. In fact, only one warrant has been registered during my term as County Auditor and that was recently. It was on Special Road and Bridge No. 2 for the purchase of machinery for that precinct, and was unnecessary and only done to comply with the terms of the contract.

Soon after qualifying a number of bridges were to be constructed and other work to be done and paid for out of the Special Fund of the Commissioners. A contract for a bridge would be let, say for Fifty Dollars, but when the warrant was issued in payment thereof, it would be for One Hundred Dollars, for twice the amount of the actual cost of construction of the bridge. Upon inquiry it developed that the party accepting the warrant at discount would be paid Fifty Dollars and the party who did the work would get Fifty Dollars. These warrants were being hawked and kited on the market of this county. The taxes were insufficient to take care of the warrants and the only solution was to prevent the issuance of warrants until all warrants which had been issued were paid. This policy was adopted and as a consequence Special Funds of the Commissioners are now and have been in good shape all during the years; practically without exception they have maintained good balances and that condition exists today.

There has been voted from 1917 to the present time in this County One Million Three Hundred Sixty-Eight Thousand Dollars Special Road District Bonds. In all we have Twenty-Three active Special Road Bond Districts. Considering the number in a County of this size you quite naturally had different conditions existing in the particular districts, and in all we were confronted with the task of selling to the best advantage. In the disposition of the entire Bonds voted in this County all have been sold on a bona fide basis of par and accrued interest. The record will show that neither directly nor indirectly was any commission or percent contracted or given in order to perfect the

CAMERON COMETS WIN FROM WESTPHALIA

In the second game of the schedule fought out on the Lawless Green field Wednesday afternoon the Comets came from behind with a four run rally to win over Westphalia.

The visitors outhit the comets 9 to 7, getting eight hits off Uuk Young before he was relieved in the eighth with the bases loaded and none out. Ducky Sumerall went to the box and pitched shutout ball for the two innings he toiled. Jansing was on the mound for Westphalia. Errors contributed to the scoring of several runs. Five bobbles were chalked against the visitors and two against the Comets.

Thursday the Comets go to Temple for a game. On Sunday, July 2 the two Cameron teams will hook up for another of their battles. Then the 4th of July will find the Temple Surgeons here for a return game. These games are expected to furnish thrills galore for the fans.

In the Cameron Sluggers game at Rosebud Wednesday the Rosebud Roses were victors by a three to 0 score. Heitman pitching for the Sluggers, was opposed by Ducey.

Notice has been received here by Mrs. Kathryn K. Robbins, County Superintendent, that the balance in claims due to schools of Milam county from the State aid funds for 1931-32 will be paid soon after July 1st.

These claims represent consolidation bonuses, transportation aid, and high school tuition, and the total due Milam county is approximately $8,000. Sharp is to receive $2,500.00; Milano, $2,100.00; San Gabriel, $800.00; Cameron, $2,000.00; Rockdale $700.00 and Thorndale $400.00.

According to T. A. Fisher, superintendent of Cameron schools, the amount which Cameron will receive for past due high school tuition will practically liquidate all outstanding obligations of the Cameron schools belonging to the 1931-32 session.

HENRY REICHERT BURIED IN CEMETERY AT SHARP

Henry Reichert, 57, native Texan and for many years a resident of the Sharpe community in Milam county, died at the family residence Thursday morning, June 22, 1933 at 6:20 o'clock. He died of a heart attack while seated at the breakfast table with his family.

News of his sudden death came as a shock to the people of Cameron and friends throughout the county felt the touch of deep sorrow over his untimely passing.

With him at the time of his death were his widow and two sons, Ben F. Reichert, Editor and Publisher of the Cameron Enterprise, and Clay Reichert of Eagle Lake.

Henry Reichert was born in Fayette county in 1876 of German parentage, pioneers who helped to mold the civilization of the Southwest. Prohibition Repeal Campaign Launched; Wets and Drys in Conventions at Austin Mon.

AUSTIN—Prohibition repeal campaign was launched here today when wets and drys meeting simultaneously in separate conventions named complete slates of delegates for the senatorial districts in Texas.

Former Attorney General W. A. Keeling was named permanent chairman of the dry convention ad C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls, Ferguson candidate, was elected to preside over the wets.

The voters of Texas will choose between wet and dry delegates on August 26. The repeal convention in Texas will be held on November 24.

Harmony prevailed in the dry convention but anti-prohibitionists were torn by factional differences, a controversy raging over the candidacy of James E. Ferguson for permanent chairman of the convention.

Bailey Stirs Trouble

Joseph Weldon Bailey of Dallas, congressman at large from Texas, precipitated the fight when he opposed the Ferguson leadership. Harmony was restored after Ferguson withdrew as a candidate and all factions lined up behind the leadership of C. C. McDonald, close political friend of Ferguson.

Those opposed to national repeal and modification of the state constitution to permit sale of beer, meeting in the hall of representatives in the state capitol were in accord.

Ferguson's withdrawal as a candidate and McDonald's election to the Officers for the association for the next six months were elected as follows: F. E. Dell Horstmann was appointed social chairman and Bernice McLerran, booster and publicity chairman.

Approximately 61,000 acres of growing cotton will be destroyed in Milam county if farmers co-operate with the Federal Government in its efforts to raise price levels of farm products.

County Agent Geo. Banzhaf was having a strenuous week organizing the districts of the county to set the machinery in motion for a thorough plan of co-operation.

Contracts had been distributed to every section of the county on Wednesday. The county unit is the school district and for the present trustees have been asked to co-operate in getting the information to the farmers. A meeting is to be held in each district.

Average lint production for Milam county, over a five year period is 146 pounds to the acre. Rental money to be paid by the Department of Agriculture would average $8 per acre and the total money to be paid the farmers of Milam county, if one fourth of the cotton is plowed under would reach approximately $500,000.

Cash payments for acreage plowed under would be reduced some if farmers exercised the option offered on cotton already on hand.

There are 5000 farms in Milam county, according to Mr. Banzhaf. Not all produce cotton. Not more than 50 per cent of cotton may be plowed up under the government plan.

Inspectors appointed in each district will make the plan thorough, it was said. Cash rentals on some of the cotton lands would run as high as $20 per acre. No land producing as low as 100 pound lint will be accepted, it was said.

Tenant farmers whose crop is mortgaged to the landlord must obtain the signature of the land owner to the contract. Both must sign.

The entire plan is co-operative. Cotton is not to be destroyed by law. Farmers, if they receive maximum benefits, must co-operate to the fullest extent with the government.

Reforestation Camp Sought For County

A reforestation camp for Milam County is sought by the Chamber of Commerce, it was announced Monday night by President L. Van Perkins.

A detailed application has been sent to Washington. The camp would bring a large number of men to work along Little River and other streams under the public works plan, to clear out the channels to accelerate flow of flood waters and to improve timber sections along the streams.

Mr. Perkins said a plan had been advanced to build a records building, to be erected by the government and leased to the county without the necessity of issuing bonds or warrants.

Public Industry For Cameron Is Sought

The first number of self liquidating public works was advanced Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce by Dr. G. E. Sutton who reported a conference with the state sanitary engineer. He suggested the building of a county abbatoir and canning plant.

COMETS WIN SUNDAY FROM BEN ARNOLD

The Cameron Comets fell on the slants of Dad Reimer Sunday afternoon and gathered a total of eighteen hits during the game which was won by the Comets thirteen to two. Six two base hits and one three bagger were mixed up in the hitting.

The Comets made enough scores in their first time at bat to have won the game as they tallied three times in their initial time to bat. In the second inning they added another. Then in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings they collected three scores in each frame to make a total of thirteen.

Fritz Ondrej was assigned to the hot corner and Tex Miller was in the center pasture and the playing of both of these players was all that could be desired. Sensational fielding by the Comet infield cut off many potential runs and two double plays featured in the game. Protho Dierr on first base not only played errorless ball, but made several sensational plays afield. While Tex Miller carried off the batting honors for the day when he collected three hits in four times to bat with one walk. The other Comets were also busy with the willow as every player got at least one hit each. Prothro Dierr and Dennis McDonald hit two two-baggers each, while Bo Jenness was the only player to pole out a triple.

Peel was on the mound for the Comets and let the Ben Arnold team down with a measley six hits and it was a shut out game for Archie until the ninth inning, when Ben Arnold put over their two tallies. Except for one bobble by Kosel the Comets played errorless ball and the Comets had on their hitting togs Sunday afternoon. Dad Reimer retired from the game after the seventh inning and was replaced in the box by Vogelsang, but this young man fared no better than his predecessor.

The schedule for the Comets for the remaining games is as follows: At home games—Cameron Sluggers Sunday, July 2nd; Thorndale, Wednesday, July 5th; Rosebud, Sunday, July 23rd; Westphalia, Wednesday, July 28th. The last game in the schedule calls for the Cameron Sluggers and the Comets at the Lawless Gren field Sunday, July 30. The away from home games for the Comets are at Westphalia Sunday, July 9th; at Rosebud Sunday, July 16th; at Thorndale Wednesday, July 19th; Wednesday July 26 at Ben Arnold.

Two or three games have been tentatively matched for this week and for the fourth of July but at this time they are not definitely scheduled.

FAMED FLYER APPOINTED MGR. AVIATION SALES

Noted aviator, winner of many world's speed records, and holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross, Captain Al J. Williams has accepted the position of Manager of Aviation Sales with the Gulf Refining Company. He takes over the responsibility to devote his wide flying experience to industrial progress. He will assume his post immediately.

This announcement has particular importance not only because Captain Williams is one of America's foremost exponents of aviation but also because his experience as businessman, writer, lecturer, and lawyer, fits him for his duties.

His career has been featured by many outstanding acknowledgements of his prowess as an ace flyer. In addition to winning the Distinguished Flying Cross, Captain Williams was one of the twelve men selected in the United States "in recognition of services rendered to aeronautics" by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. For eight consecutive years he held the American speed record for airplanes.

Captain Williams enlisted in the Navy for the duration of the war as naval aviator. He specialized in testing airplanes for the Navy Department and developing aerial aeronautics for purpose of fighting in the air. From 1926 until 1930, when he resigned from the Navy, he specialized in high speed research.

At the time that he received the Distinguished Flying Cross, Captain Williams also received a citation from the Secretary of the Navy. This stated, in part: that he had many times undergone risk of his life for the benefit of the service—that up to 1925 he had performed this duty with the aid of parachute where a serious crash was expected—that he also flew one plane to complete destruction to elicit information on the vital subject of flat spinning of service aircraft—that this constant association with test and development work has been occasioned by the desire of the chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics to continue him in a position where the Navy could get the most benefit of his experience and ability—that the standard combat type of plane reflects many of the improvements pioneered in racing by him—that from 1922 on he played a major part in keeping the Navy to the fore in heavier-than-air development—that in articles written to the public he had shown himself to be a scholar as well as a master pilot.

Today Captain Williams' busy life supplies him with a diversity of interests and makes him doubly valuable as Manager of Aviation Sales for the Gulf Refining Company. He is one of the officers of the Deleware Chemical Engineering Company, a steady contributor to the Saturday Evening Post, Collier's, Liberty, and aeronautical journals on aviation subjects, a lecturer of note, a lawyer in the State of New York, and a captain in the U. S. Marine Corps, Reserves. It is also interesting to note that he graduated from Fordham University, received a Bachelor of Laws degree from Georgetown University Evening Law School, and pitched for the New York Giants for two years under John J. McGraw.

To the Citizenship of Milam County:

sale. In some instances the amount of the deficiency to be made up in order to force the issue to bring par and accrued interest seemed staggering, yet the interested tax payers and business men always responded and our bonds were never sold below par and accrued interest. Just recently, I was reliably informed that in a certain County of this state with a million dollar bond issue, a contract for a commission to be paid of three per cent of $30,000 when the sale was made, and when the Bonds would not be sold at par and accrued interest. Our road bonds have always been attractive and highly regarded as an investment by bond buyers, and no district has ever defaulted in the payment of the principal and interest.

After the Bonds were sold, contracts were let for the construction of good roads. In letting these contracts the law provides the lowest and best bid, but our court always adhered to the strict interpretation of the law and the contract in each and every case was let to the lowest bidder. We had no dickering and as a result at a road letting in this County worth while bids were submitted and the Court, taking this view enabled the various districts to get full value for expenditures.

Along in the year 1919 tick eradication work was attempted and many thousands of dollars were expended with no definite objective towards successfully eradicating the tick. I openly opposed the further expenditure of funds, and the clean-up work dragged for several years. When it was shown definitely to the court that a systematic campaign would be arranged and conducted in furtherance of this work and a failure to co-operate with the Federal and State authorities would have resulted disastriously to the cattle men, then the court very reluctantly but wisely consented to carry on the work. You are familar with the fact that it was brought to a successful conclusion in one year.

In 1917 we had court house bonds totaling forty thousand dollars and jail bonds totaling Eight Thousand Dollars outstanding. These bonds have long since been paid off and today this County has no general bonds of any character outstanding. There is outstanding at present time the sum of $67,012.50 in time warrants; of this amount $51,072.50 was issued long prior to my time.We have in time warrants the sum of $15,940,-00 issued since I qualified as County Auditor, one is the sum of $1,990.00 to build a retaining wall at the old McCown bridge; $9,950.00 was issued to repair the Faubion bridge at Gause and $4,000.00 of an issue to pay for construction of bridges.

Since I have been Auditor I have advised, as far as possible a "pay as you go policy." When this seemed impossible and a warrant issue was necessary, then I insisted to have the indebtedness represented in as early maturities as possible, and not prolong, defer and put off the payment of the indebtedness incurred. If this plan is ignored and warrants or bonds are issued the payment in each instance is at some far distant date and the Sinking Fund must be provided from the current resources to pay interest and retire the warrants at maturity, you soon have all available resources pledged to the payment of principal and interest. It is inexcusable to permit this condition to exist, and I am glad to report our funds are not so pledged, but remain intact for any emergency which might arise. Each generation must take care, as far as possible, of all current obligations and not saddle this off on future generations. During the sixteen years it has not been necessary to refund, revamp and refinance Milam county, as seems to be popular over the entire country now, as to road districts, cities and counties unable to meet pressing obligations.

For the past ten years the report of all officials have been checked by certified public accountants, at my expense, and I have in reports previously made referred to extracts from his reports, in which he always commended the conditions of our County.

When the budget was adopted last year, it was urged by some of our citizens that a blanket reduction in the tax rendition of the County be made to afford the desired tax relief. I submitted the figures then, as compiled by the Tax Assessor of this County, showing that in 1916 the taxable rendition was $18,845,-638.00, and for the year 1932 $15,838,-737.00 or a net decline in the taxable rendition in sixteen years of $3,000,-000.00, a consistent reduction, notwithstanding new homes, new businesses and other enterprises springing into existence. Regardless of the rapid decline in the taxable rendition of the county, the Commissioners Court was able to grant a reduction of the tax rate of five cents in 1926 and 1927, and three cents in 1928.

Last year the Legislature passed the "Bond Assumption Bill" granting relief to the Counties and certain Road Districts where money had been spent on designated highways. The report was compiled by Judge Kemp and myself and checked by the State Auditor. With pardonable pride, I want to say that he told me it was the first County he had checked where he had failed to reduce the amount based on the figures submitted, from ten to one hundred thousand dollars. He accepted the report as correct in every particular and not only checked the full expenditures of State Highways, but lateral roads as well.

I have never made a statement in reference to the failure of the Cameron State Bank in which County funds were involved. I am not seeking an alibi at this time and am willing to accept any responsibility which rightfully belongs to me, but the former officers of this closed bank and the members of the Commissioners Court will verify the fact that during the years prior to the failure of this bank I did confer with them on numerous occasions in reference to putting up definite security when the amount on deposit in the bank justified it. From the time when the change was made and securities were accepted in lieu of a surety bond, I have repeatedly insisted when the securities were insufficient for them to pledge additional collateral or securities, and while the failure was just about the time of heavy tax paying period and the amount on deposit would fluctuate greatly, yet it was on my heart and mind during the years when pledged securities were acceptable. No loss will finally be sustained if the higher courts view the law as urged by the attorneys for the County, and in this event the dividends to be paid, plus the proceeds from the sale of security, will re-imburse the County in full.

Moore Lynn, State Auditor and Efficiency Expert, in his second Biennial report covering taxes and indebtedness of local units of the goverment of Texas shows the dollar of debt to each inhabitant in Milam County to be $35.26. This report discloses the fact that there are twenty-two counties in the State with less debt per inhabitant than Milam County, and they are as follows: Glasscock, Rusk, King, Irion, Zapata, Bandera, Jim Hogg, Mason, Llano, Hood, Mills, Lampasas, Waller, Morris, Burnett, Newton, Lee, Bosque, Coryell, Cook, Cass and Gonzales. The above named twenty-two counties have less debt than Milam County and all are small or isolated counties. The general average of the dollar of debt per each inhabitant for the various counties of the state amount to $121.65. Milam County's debt is $35.26. The comparison on general averages for all the counties of the state is given by the State Auditor and in the list so given Milam County is far below the general average, and is shown by the following schedule:

	Dollar of Debt to $100.00 Value	Dollar of Tax Collected to $100.00 Val.			Dollar of Debt to Each Inhabitant	Dollar of Tax Collected to each inhabitant
		Debt Purp.	Gen. Purp.	Total		Debt Purp.	Gen. Purp.	Total
Total average ratio for al counties of state	17.88	1.35	2.47	3.82	121.65	9.16	16.83	25.99
For Milam County	8.44	1.18	2.20	3.38	35.26	4.92	9.20	14.12

The nearest approach to the record maintained by Milam county, considering size, population and taxable rendition is Fayette County with a debt of $35.27 to each inhabitant.

Since serving as County Auditor I have made every effort to render a worth-while service. When it was necessary and the occasion demanded it I could say "No" with just as good grace as I could say "Yes." One of the greatest savings to be effected is by refusing to accede to some of the demands made on the Commissioners' Court. Probably more is accomplished for the good of the county at times in not doing than in doing. Practically upon all occasions I have had the co-operation of the Commissioners Court. At times we have differed but when a decision was reached we would proceed in a business-like manner, all working for the common good of the county.

I have intended to be positive, and in handling the affairs and details of the work, I have sought to direct the County's business where it would be for the best interests of the people of Milam county.

A county, State or Nation is in some respects like an individual, only of course, of vastly more importance. There are many things and projects which might be nice for an individual to have for his own use and benefit, but if such individual has not the funds with which to purchase same, or some definite way provided for payment thereof, then, I think such things should not be purchased and the payment thereof saddled off on some one else. So it is with a county, and it has been my position, that no matter how worthy some project might be, regardless of the source from which it terminated and by whom presented, if the purchase thereof would plunge our county into debt for future generations to have to shoulder, then the project was not good for our county.

The people of Milam County have been very kind and considerate of me during the years, and I want to take this opportunity to publicly thank the citizenship for the courtesies extended and their co-operation. I have at all times tried to be open, frank, candid and truthful in dealing with the people who have come in contact with me.

Taxes....

IN TEXAS the natural gas industry and ultimately the gas consumers are required to pay four special tax levies to the state as follows:

Under one article of the state statutes, the gas companies pay an annual franchise tax. Under another article, gas distribution companies are required to pay a tax of one-half of one per cent of their gross receipts in all cities and towns with a population of from 2,500 to 10,000, and one per cent of their gross receipts in towns of over 10,000 population. Under still another article, a gross production tax of two per cent is levied upon all natural gas, and under a further article gas pipeline companies are required to pay a gas utilities tax of one-fourth of one per cent of their gross receipts.

The natural gas utilities are required to pay to the state two special tax levies which no other utility is required to pay. In addition to the various special taxes collected by the state, the gas utilities are required to pay many other tax levies, such as Federal Income Tax, Revenue Stamp Tax, Ad Valorem taxes levied by Road Districts, Water Improvement Districts, Levee Districts, Independent School Districts, and the Ad Valorem tax levies made for the support of the various city, county and state governments.

This company is willing to pay, and should pay, its just share of the reasonable cost of government; however, there appears to be a constant and growing tendency on the part of some tax assessors, tax boards and tax commissions to increase the values and raise the taxes of the gas utilities entirely out of proportion to the values and the taxes levied upon other personal property. Ultimately, this must result in a higher price for gas to the consumer. Under the present burden of taxation it requires approximately 56c out of every bill rendered to the gas consumer to pay taxes. Such taxes must be charged as an operating expense to the customer, because the company cannot control this expense and is merely a collector of the tax.

fund, not to exceed two dollars per pupil per month. Other children may be transported within and between their districts and application for state aid may be made to an amount not to exceed one dollar per month per pupil.

Talks were made by Mrs. Kathryn K. Robbins, county superintendent, and Elmo Reynolds, county superintendent of Robertson county and by Thos. A. Fisher, chairman of the county board.

At one-thirty the meeting was turned over to George Banzhaf, county farm agent, who explained to the school tustees the government cotton acreage reduction plan.

T. S. Henderson, one of the largest cotton growers in the county, pledged his support to the Federal plan.

The school discussions were then continued and the making of budgets by all school trustees was stressed as one of the necessary procedures in compliance with the law and the necessity of all school trustees taking the oath of office before entering into any transaction for the district.

DIZZINESS

relieved by Black-Draught

"I decided to take Thedford's Black-Draught, as I had been having bilious spells," writes Mr. Charles E. Stevens, of Columbus, Ind. "When I get bilious, I feel sleepy and tired and do not feel like doing my work. It is hard to tell how I feel, but I do not feel good. I get awfully dizzy. I know then that I had better take something. After I found how good Black-Draught is, that is what I have used. I guess it rids me of the bile, for I feel better — don't feel like I am dropping off to sleep every time I sit down. That, to me, is a very bad feeling."

Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

PROHIBITION

chairmanship came suddenly in the midst of a period of confusion after Ferguson had appeared before the convention and offered to withdraw if "the Bailey Crowd" would join with him in nominating and electing McDonald to the place.

Ferguson said he had always had respect for "Young Joe Bailey" but that now he concluded "he did not know anything."

Bailey had challenged Ferguson's eligibility to hold the chairmanship, recalling his impeachment and removal from the offce of governor in 1917. He pointed to the senate's impeachment judgment which directed that Ferguson never again hold office of "honor, trust or profit."

Explaining his opposition to Ferguson Bailey said he had decided "to do what I feel called on to do because it is apparent no one else will do it."

Bailey had said that so anxious was he to have everything regular and legally done that in event Ferguson were named the chairman, he (Bailey) would call another convention and certify the Ferguson convention's list of delegates from it so as to preclude any court contest that might void results of the election.

Ferguson who had been a spectator in the audience sitting on a front chair with his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Nalle, and a group of friends quietly made his way to the rostrum.

As he stepped into full view the audience rose and cheered. The demonstration continued for several minutes.

He paid his respects to his opponents, and pointed out that he felt certain of election but that he was willing to meet the "Bailey Crowd" in the matter of harmony.

"We want you; we want you," many delegates called to him.

Offers To Withdraw

He expressed regret that his impeachment had been brought up by Bailey and said there was "serious doubt" that he was ever impeached. "If it will bring this campaign harmony I shall go so far as to withdraw as candidate and offer Charlie McDonald to the other crowd as one on whom we can settle our difficulties," he shouted.

The audience went into a demonstration, with many delegates trying to make themselves heard with: "We want Jim Ferguson; no one else."

made his home for more than forty years.

Mr. Reichert had always enjoyed good health, a man of hardy build. He had never spent a day in bed until about ten days before his death when at times he lay down to rest. His was an active life and he kept up his normal activities until a short time before the end came.

About a year ago he gave up to a large extent his farm interests, but continued active supervision over the operation of his property. With his faithful wife who always accompanied him, they spent Tuesday, June 6th with their son, Ben F. Reichert in Cameron. He had been active as a community builder but during the past few months had ceased active interest. He suffered a severe heart stroke on Sunday, June 11, but rallied and seemed to improve as the days passed. On the morning of his death he expressed himself as feeling much better. Shortly after seating himself with the family at breakfast he slumped forward and died almost instantly.

He was loved by his family and friends, a devoted father and husband, endearing himself through long years of sacrifice for friends and community to the citizenship among whom he had spent more than four decades of active life. To his family he spared neither physical effort or funds, helping and planning achievements for his children. To them remains the rich heritage of a father's counsel and the sturdy influence of a strong character developed in the ways of right living and sacrifice.

He was married to Miss Mary Gonten of Bushdale in Milam county, on November 28, 1898. To them were born three children. Mrs. O. R. Meeck of San Gabriel, Ben. F. Reichert of Cameron and H. C. Reichert of Eagle Lake.

Funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church at Sharpe Friday afternoon June 23, 1933 by Rev. O. C. Acrey, pastor First Presbyterian Church, Cameron. Rev. Richard Steege, pastor of the Sharpe Lutheran church of which he was member, was absent from the community and could not hold the services. Rev. Acrey paid a high tribute to Henry Reichert the father and citizen.

Praise for deceased followed with Judge Graham Gillis speaking a tribute over the body of his fallen friend. They had been schoolmates and Judge Gillis knew him since their boyhood days. He recounted with affection their early experiences as students at the Leachville school. The best in character and a man had actuated him from boyhood, Judge Gillis said, adding that his faith and belief in God was a guiding influence in his life which was translated into service for his family and children. He believed and lived the Golden Rule, a kind, patient man who incorporated in his nature the depths of great feeling for others, loving his family and keeping them constant in the confines of his affection.

It was fitting that he should find rest in the soil which for more than four decades had challenged his efforts to success and high estimation as a citizen. With tear dimmed eyes and hearts that throbbed in sorrow, friends and neighbors gathered in reverent memory of one who had lived to inspire and to point the way to nobler living.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Reichert; two sons, Ben F. Reichert of Cameron, editor and publisher of the Cameron Enterprise; H. C. Reichert of Eagle Lake; one daughter, Mrs. O. R. Meeck of San Gabriel; one granddaughter, Mary Lou Meeck, and son in law, Oscar Meeck; two brothers, Adolph Reichert of Valley Mills and Frank Reichert of Miles; four sisters, Mrs. Walter Branstetter of Cameron; Mrs. Will Davis of Sharpe; Mrs. Luther McDonald of Sharpe and Mrs. Henry Whites of Sharpe.

Active pallbearers were nephews: Rufus Reichert, Nelson Davis of Sharpe; Herbert Reichert of Valley Mills; Harry Timmerman of Bethlehem; Paul Branstetter and George Triggs of Cameron.

Interment was made in Sharpe cemetery with the Coleman Funeral Home at Cameron directing funeral arrangements.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for words of sympathy and assistance extended to us at the death of our beloved husband and father. We are expecially grateful for the many floral offerings.

and family.

About Tobacco

By William J. Scholes

Whenever a man reaches the overripe age of ninety he is asked for an interview on how and why, in his opinion, he lived so long. Old Uncle Ebenezer will say that it is because he "never touched tobacco." The following week, Grandpa Sodgrass—another nonagenarian—comes out with a statement, between puffs of his pipe, that's he's "been smoking since he was eleven years old." It is the old story of the personal equation.

Tobacco has had some bitter enemies, and most of the warfare has been waged against the cigarette, whose strongest opponent was Lucy Page Gaston. She never said much against pipes and cigars but concerned her efforts against the cigarettes—not knowing that, despite popular belief, the latter are the least harmful of the three. And while I am on the cigarette, let me say that all the talk about the paper being the harmful part is pure nonsense.

The harmful effect of smoking consists of the inhaling of nicotine. And the amount of nicotine the smoker gets depends, not on the kind of tobacco, but the manner in which he uses it. During the burning of tobacco—let us say, of a cigar—there is behind the seat of combustion a moist area in which the water and volatile substances are condensed and drawn into the mouth with the smoke. Inasmuch as there is enough nicotine in the average cigar to kill an ordinary man it is evident that only a fraction of this is inhaled, the remainder being destroyed by the process of combustion.

Obviously, then, the larger this moist area of condensation, the more nicotine will be volatilized and inhaled. It follows that cigarettes and panatellas are the least injurious, while the cigars and pipes are the most harmful. Also, the longer a cigar is smoked the more harmful it becomes, because of the increased amount of moisture. Every smoker knows that a thin cigar is not as strong as a thick one, and that the first two thirds of a cigar are milder than the last one third.

As for pipes the long stemmed kind are preferable to the short stemmed because when the smoke passes through a long stem it is cooled and the volatile substances are deposited along the lining of the stem. In the short stemmed pipe the smoke is still hot when it enters the mouth, and all the volatile substances are inhaled.

The time of day one uses tobacco has considerable bearing on its effects. Thus, smoking a cigarette before breakfast is as injurious as are three "pills" afterward. Smoking "on an empty stomach" is more injurious than it is after a full meal. Smoking between courses at dinner is bad. It retards digestion.

The use of tobacco is, however, harmful to anybody, man or woman, whether used moderately or excessively. The harm is, naturally, like everything else, a matter of degree. Some suffer less ill effect than others.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Caffey, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Moore of Salty, Mrs. Jess Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Turner of Davilla, were dinner guests Sunday of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Newton. In the afternon th e crowd was augmented by several Cameron friends who enjoyed the singing rendered by the Salty and Davilla guests.

What Does These Laundry's Mean to Waco?

Our Pay Roll for the past several years has been—

$85,513.00

Annually

This put us to thinking, as during the past year by Cameron people buying Waco made bread instead of Cameron made bread, closed three bakeries here. These bakeries employed several people and they in turn spent their earnings here in Cameron. The Waco people in return spent nothing.

DURING THE PAST FIVE YEARS THE CAMERON ICE AND COLD STORAGE COMPANY HAS PAID OUT TO THEIR EMPLOYES—

$76,000.00

They paid out IN CITY, County and state Taxes—

$14,000.00

Making a Total paid out by them here in Cameron

$90,000

This money in return was spent for upkeep of your schools, streets and running the City and County governments, and the buying of groceries, dry goods, Etc., and other needs by those employed. DID THIS HELP to make Cameron a better City? If it did then it would seem to be a common sense proposition that we spend our money for home made products. Buckholts Man Is Dead From Injuries Received In Crash

Anton Zajicek, 20, of Buckholts, died in the Cameron Hospital Sunday night at 12 o'clock from internal injuries received on Saturday night.

He and two girls were on their way to Bartlett to a party in a delivery truck. Zajicek took a road which had been recently fenced, unknowingly to him. As they struck the fence, the car turned over, pinning Zajicek beneath, where he stayed about thirty minutes before the girls could summon help.

Demo. Committee Endorses Repeal

AUSTIN—The state democratic executive committee tonight gave unqualified endorsement to repeal of the 18th amendment and pledged its support to the movement.

The meeting was harmonious. There was no discussion of tomorrow's conventions of prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists and no menton was made of prospective candidates for the permanent chairmanship of the repeal meeting. The session lasted less than 15 minutes.

The committee adopted a resolution calling upon "all loyal democrats to go to the polls and vote for repeal of the 18th amendment and carry out all of the party platform demands of our president, vice-president and governor."

Helped By Cardui

Here's the true story of how Cardui helped Mrs. H. E. Dunaway, of McComb, Miss., as written by herself:

"I was sick and rather discouraged. I was so weak and thin, I was not able to do my work as it should be done. This made me fret a good deal, and did not help my condition.

"I had pains across my back and lower part of my body. My nights were spent in rolling from one side of the bed to the other, hoping I would soon go to sleep. Then when morning would come, I would be just as tired as when I went to bed. A neighbor, seeing how badly I felt, told me to try Cardui. After I had taken one bottle, I was much better. I kept on taking Cardui, and I was stronger and slept much better at night."
